Formerly an attorney practicing criminal and family law in Stamford, Carrie served as an assistant state's attorney in Stamford Criminal Court prosecuting crimes of domestic violence and as the legal director of the Domestic Violence Crisis Center.

For over 20 years, Carrie has brought her passion for advocacy and systems change to her work in the nonprofit sector.

Carrie has a B.A. from Boston College, a Master's Certificate from the McCormack Graduate School of Policy and Global Studies at the University of Massachusetts, and a J.D. from Pace University School of Law. Carrie lives in Darien with her husband and four daughters.

Over its 67-year history, the Community Fund has evolved as a thought leader on local philanthropy. Bernier is credited with increasing the transparency and accountability of the fund's grant investments by tracking impact using results-based accountability and funding goals based on needs assessment.

Bernier also positioned the fund to receive a $500,000 grant from the state Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services to develop a five-year strategic plan to prevent underage drinking in Darien. The provocative "Our Darien" social media campaign continues to change parent and teen behavior around alcohol.

After recognizing a gap the nonprofit sector's use crowdfunding technology for cost-effective and efficient online fundraising, Bernier helped launch TheImpactVine.org, an innovative crowdfunding site for local nonprofits.

Board of Directors member Cindy Banks will lead the search committee to find Bernier's successor. During the transition, the Community Fund's highly competent staff, with a combined 35 years of experience at the Community Fund, will step up to lead their respective departments. Board Secretary Frank Huck and President Steve Ward will oversee the office.

Of Bernier's departure, Search Chair Cindy Banks said, "We will miss Carrie and her passionate dedication to our mission. We want to thank her for five years of dedicated service and we wish her the best of luck in her new endeavor."

In the coming weeks, the Search Committee will be posting details on the process and timing of the search for a new executive director. Please direct all inquiries to: info@communityfunddarien.org.
