

Letter: Support for Klein's Plan to Get Connecticut Economy Moving

Author : David Gurliacci

Categories : Government & Politics, Letters to the Editor

Tagged as : 141st District 2016, 141st District Election 2016, Randy KleinRandy Klein 2016

Date : October 12, 2016

Darienite.com accepts letters to the editor about candidates running for office in the Nov. 8 election, but only up through the end of the day on Halloween, Oct. 31. Email your letter to dave@darienite.com.

Randy Klein, a Democrat, is challenging Republican state Rep. Terrie Wood in the 141st House District:

To the editor:

I support Randy Klein's three point plan to get Connecticut's economy moving again. Randy knows the importance of a balanced budget.

That's why, as our state representative, he will fight to cap the governor's bonding authority, freeze

Darienite

News for Darien

<http://darienite.com>

employee wages and take on costly pension benefits. He also knows that we need to give business owners a break so they can create more jobs for Connecticut.

His plan to eliminate outdated regulations, and enact an 800 hotline to help entrepreneurs navigate remaining regulations will encourage new businesses to open their doors here.

Finally, he knows that we need to fix our transportation system. Randy will fight to enact the transportation lock box, and make sure our commuters have safe and reliable service. He stood up against the rate fair hike as a private citizen, and he'll stand up for us as our State Representative.

Vote for Randy Klein for State Representative on Nov. 8.

Dan Nalawade