

Darienite

News for Darien

<http://darienite.com>

---

How to Raise Financially Responsible Children: Presentation at Darien Library

Author : David Gurliacci

Categories : Parents & Kids

Tagged as : Women and Financial Literacy Roundtable 2017

Date : April 9, 2017

'Children and money' is the topic of this week's informal "Women and Financial Literacy" roundtable discussion series at Darien Library. The series includes lectures and discussions to help women reach financial independence.

The discussion takes place from 10 to 11 a.m., Wednesday, April 12, in the Conference Room at Darien Library.

— an announcement from Darien Library

We'll discuss the secrets to raising financially responsible children (ages 3-30). We will discuss a wide range of topics including:

- Sorting through the pros and cons of an allowance
- Determining the appropriate allowance amount
- Teaching different lessons at different ages
- Managing spenders versus savers
- Understanding when and how to give children the wings to make their own financial decisions
- Knowing the right time to give children credit cards

About the Presenters

Liz Maccarone, CRPC® is a Financial Analyst. She joined Merrill Lynch in 2012 and is a graduate of Fairfield University. She coordinates and monitors investment strategies and planning services for clients.

Julia Strayer, CRPC®, CIMA®, CPWA® is the Senior Vice President, Wealth Management Advisor or Merrill Lynch. Prior to her move to Merrill Lynch in 2000, Julia was Vice President, Private Banker for BankBoston's Private Bank for 7 years, responsible for asset management and trust services.

Previously, Julia worked in marketing for 9 years with Merrill Lynch. Julia has a BA from Ohio State University and an MBA from New York University's Stern School of Business.

Julia has appeared on the CNBC show "Power Lunch," CBS "This Morning," WGCH's "Women in Business," in addition to featured articles in USA Today. Julia has hosted women roundtable discussions throughout her career. She is also an adjunct professor at New York University.