Due to inclement weather Saturday, the “An Old Fashioned Holiday” event at Tilley Pond Park, originally scheduled for Saturday, instead will take place Sunday, Dec. 15, the town Parks and Recreation Department announced.

The free event will still take place from 3 to 5 p.m. and still include decorative lights covering the warming hut (already up!), candles surrounding the sidewalk pathways lighting your exit, two roaring fires to warm your chill and holiday music playing.

Also: festive treats for purchase (hot cider, hot cocoa, chocolate covered marshmallow Santas, apple cider doughnuts, gingerbread men, ribbon candy, peppermint lollipops), FREE activity stations for the kids (ornament creating, cookie decorating, writing letters to Santa and visits from a couple special guests) and even some holiday caroling!

Caroling will be led and begin at 3:30 p.m. We hope to see you Sunday and get you in the holiday spirit!
