The rehearsals and the concerts for the festival took place at Connecticut Convention Center in Hartford on April 11 to 13 in conjunction with the state-wide CMEA conference.

The Darien students had the privilege of working in musical ensembles with Connecticut's most accomplished high school musicians conducted by nationally renowned conductors and educators.

“These students are among the finest school musicians in our state and we are all extremely proud of their accomplishments and for representing Darien High School and our entire town so well at this prestigious state-wide event,” said Richard Sadlon, the director of music.

Elementary Schools

Seven students from Royle School and Tokeneke School were chosen to perform in the CMEA Elementary All-State Honors Chorus in Hartford on Friday, April 12.

The students prepared the music with their teachers in advance of the festival and rehearsed all day at the Connecticut Convention Center in Hartford under the direction of guest choral director Sophia Popoulis.

The Elementary Honors Chorus is made up of outstanding young musicians from throughout the state and takes place each year in conjunctions with the Connecticut Music Educators Conference.

The experience culminated with a concert performance for parents and music educators.
