

What Dyslexia Is and How to Help Dyslexic Children Reach Full Potential

Author : David Gurliacci

Categories : Darien Library, Education, Parents & Kids, Talks-Panel Discussions-Presentations-Workshops

Tagged as : DyslexiaMargie Gillis

Date : March 25, 2017

What is dyslexia? How is it diagnosed? How can we help these children reach their full potential? Reading expert, Dr. Margie Gillis, answers all these questions and more in an educational presentation at Darien Library.

Join us in the Community Room from 9:30 a.m to 11 a.m. on Thursday, April 6.

— an announcement from Darien Library

Darienite
News for Darien
<http://darienite.com>

The presentation is co-sponsored by Darien SEPAC and Darien Library.

Children, teen, and adult programs are funded by contributions to the Annual Campaign for the Darien Library. Please contact the Children's Library at 203-669-5235, or visit the Library's website to view all the children's programs.

About Dr. Margie Gillis

Dr. Margie Gillis is the president of Literacy How and a research affiliate at Fairfield University and Haskins Labs.

Among her many accomplishments and presentations, she was recently (in January) the primary presenter of the live webinar, "Using Literacy Screening Data to Support Students with Reading Difficulties," attended by approximately 300 Connecticut educators and hosted by the State Education Resource Center of CT (SERC) and the Connecticut State Department of Education (CSDE).