Historian Evan Thomas will discuss his new biography of former Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor at a breakfast event Monday, April 22 at Norwalk Community College.

Tickets ($65 plus a $5.59 fee) are available online up to this coming Wednesday, April 3). Seating is limited. Barrett Bookstore is a co-sponsor of the event.

The event takes place in the East Campus Atrium at 181 Richards Ave., Norwalk. A portion of ticket sales will benefit a scholarship fund at NCC for paralegal students.

At the breakfast, from 7:30 to 9 a.m., former Connecticut Supreme Court Associate Justice Joette Katz will moderate a discussion with Thomas.

Historian Evan Thomas' biography of Sandra Day O'Connor, America's first female Supreme Court justice, draws on exclusive interviews and first-time access to O'Connor's archives.

O'Connor's story is that of a woman who repeatedly shattered glass ceilings—doing so with a blend of grace, wisdom and humor. This is a remarkably vivid and personal portrait of a woman who built a bridge forward for all Americans.

- “Before Ruth Bader Ginsburg, there was Sandra Day O'Connor, and O'Connor's story has everything.
- “In Evan Thomas's brilliant and compelling book, we are given an intimate and gripping account of a pioneering American woman successfully seeking to thrive in an all-male world.
- “Noble and flawed, selfless and ambitious, Justice O'Connor sought a more perfect union amid imperfect choices.
- “Written with fluidity and grace, Thomas's book is required reading for anyone interested in the role of women in America, the course of justice, and the nature of our politics.
- “This is a landmark achievement about an American original that's also, blessedly, a delight to read.”
