Former NBA player Chris Herren is coming to Darien High School on Nov. 30 to speak about addiction and recovery.

Herren will speak to students during the day and, starting at 7 p.m., to parents at the high school Auditorium.

Drafted by the Denver Nuggets in 1999, Herren was traded to the Boston Celtics after his rookie season, then lost his career to substance abuse.

He's been alcohol- and drug-free since Aug. 1, 2008 and now puts "his sobriety and family above all else," according to an announcement from organizers of the event.

The announcement also says:

"He shares his harrowing story of abuse and recovery in his memoir, Basketball Junkie, as well as in numerous interviews throughout the Emmy-nominated ESPN Films documentary Unguarded, of which he is the subject.

"Please join us for an inspiring presentation featuring former NBA professional basketball player Chris Herren. A tale of descent into addiction, a miraculous recovery and his new life mission: to share his story with audiences in the hopes of reaching at least one person and making a difference in their life."

The visit is sponsored by the Community Fund of Darien's Youth Asset Team, along with Darien High School, the Darien High School Parents Association, the YWCA of Darien-Norwalk and Silver Hill Hospital.
