According to Palmer, the design calls for the creation of a central town square between two structures.

Retail, restaurant and office space will occupy the first floor, with residential apartments on the second floor. Underground parking will be provided for the apartments.

Public walkways and the town square will combine to give the area the sense of a village for activities and public events.

Palmer's talk will start at 10:45 a.m. DMA meetings are held at the Darien Community Association, 274 Middlesex Road, Darien.
