It looks like the Merritt Parkway from Norwalk to Fairfield will be a mess, with lane closures in at least two spots in either direction, according to Connecticut Department of Transportation announcements.

The department has announced (here and here) road work and bridge-inspection work will close lanes at these spots this week near Darien (we've added another report for Stamford on Wednesday that doesn't involve a lane slowdown):

MONDAY

Greenwich — Single right lane closure on I-684 northbound traffic lanes between Exits 2 and 3 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Westport — Road Work on Route 15 (Merritt Parkway) southbound traffic lanes between Exits 44 and 42 (5.5 miles) in effect today until 3 p.m. The right lane is closed.

Norwalk — Road Work on Route 15 (Merritt Parkway) northbound traffic lanes Exit 40B off ramp closed in effect today until 3 p.m.

Fairfield — Right lane closure on Route 15 (Merritt Parkway) northbound traffic lanes between Exits 42 and 44 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Left lane closure on Route 15 southbound traffic lanes between Exits 44 and 42 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

TUESDAY

Greenwich — Single right lane closure on I-684 northbound traffic lanes between Exits 2 and 3 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

WEDNESDAY
