John Anton Stuart, a former Noroton Fire Chief and previously a Glenbrook Fire Department captain, transitioned on June 14. He was 82.

The Lord called on him to end his travels on this earth. He truly traveled to every corner of the earth and to numerous places more than once. He and his wife, Bertha, ventured to every continent and most of the countries of the world. They enjoyed every minute of it as evidenced by their many photo albums they brought back. Many of which are now in new homes.

Bertha and John were philanthropic, as our family found out by the volume of mail they received. They gave to many organizations as well as to individuals they came in contact with and quietly helped in their community.

Born Sept. 18, 1936 to John and Anna Stuart, he was a resident of Stamford, then Darien. He graduated from Stamford High School in 1954 and served in the U.S. Air Force, on active duty or in the reserves, from 1955 to 1989, earning the rank of master sergeant.

While in the service, he worked in communications. He was a DJ in Morocco where he started his large record collection. John worked with the monkeys, we used in our country's early space program. I remember he built me a little monkey light with the skull of a monkey. I never asked where it came from.

Johnny also worked in our atomic energy research program. Back in Stamford after his service time, he worked for Pitney Bowes and American Cyanamid helping with scientific experiments.

John worked a bit as an electrician and helping brother Charlie with a little plumbing. He was a volunteer firefighter for Glenbrook Fire Department and rose to the rank of captain and became a full time employee with every certification a firefighter could earn.

After his move to Darien, he became a volunteer for Noroton Fire Department. In 1971, he was captain of Truck 30, and in 1972 and 1973, he was assistant chief and financial secretary. Then in 1974 was elected 1st assistant chief and was elected chief for 1975 to 1976.

He earned the friendship and respect of his fellow firefighters and military comrades. He was proud to be of service to the communities of Stamford, Darien and our country.

John was a Renaissance man. He had many interests and a great knowledge of them and spent free time reading, which his firemen friends can attest to.

He even played the organ for a time.

Bertha and he collected mucho memorabilia from their travels: coins, stamps, cameras, music, religious items, music equipment, decorated boxes, Hummel, paintings, et cetera. His prized possession was his collection of 1960s Chevy Corvairs, some of which are running today, and a collection of numerous Corvair parts. He was a master mechanic, and had a huge collection of old and brand new tools.

He was predeceased by his loving wife Bertha Fumega, whom he married in 1961 and who left his side in 2015; and his two sons, John and Ron. He is survived by: Charles (Lillian), Annamarie (Frank), Kathy (Danny), James, and Michael (Lu Ann); a daughter-in-law, Gina Mascaró Stuart; many nieces and nephews, as well as grand nieces and nephews. He also leaves his friends in the U.S. Air Force, the Corvair
