"Jayme and Susan have always been hard-working and dedicated leaders who believe in thoroughly researching and evaluating every issue."

To the editor:

We are writing to encourage Darien voters to cast their ballots on Nov. 3 for Jayme Stevenson, Susan Marks and Kip Koons.

We have known Jayme and Susan for almost two decades and have had the honor of working alongside them during their years of volunteering at Royle School, Darien High School and on the YES DHS! Referendum Committee.

Jayme and Susan have always been hard-working and dedicated leaders who believe in thoroughly researching and evaluating every issue. Time after time, this thoughtful approach has brought forth new ideas, fostered practical solutions and built consensus among constituents with diverse interests.

Jayme and Susan have wisely added Kip Koons to their team and we are confident their passion for the betterment of Darien and steadfast commitment to fiscal responsibility will ensure they continue to find innovative solutions to important issues facing the town.

Editor's note: You, too can give Darien your two cents' worth in a letter to the editor of Darienite.com, just email it to dave@darienite.com. We have no particular word limit, although we might edit down letters that ramble at length (and you won't get many people reading most letters that are very long), so use your common sense.
