An employee of Whole Foods Market told police that a surveillance camera recording showed a man put several bags of frozen shrimp and salmon from a freezer into his cart, then the video shows him rolling it all out of the store without paying.

The incident was reported to police on Thursday, June 28. The Darien police announcement doesn't indicate whether anyone is reported to have stopped the man before he left the store at 150 Ledge Road, and the police statement doesn't indicate the circumstances about why the video recording was looked up or when the incident happened.

The man was wearing a black baseball hat, black shirt and jeans, police said.
