FedEx says it delivered a package to a Post Road resident living near the road's intersection with Hollow Tree Ridge Road, but the resident says she never got it.

The woman told police she ordered the package from Amazon on May 7, but when she didn't see it by May 16, she contacted FedEx to see what happened to it. She was told it had been delivered at 9:18 a.m. on May 10.

The woman said she was home most of that day and has three dogs that she believed would have barked if someone came to her front porch.

Police asked neighbors if they had seen anything suspicious, but nothing came of that effort.
