A 45-year-old Darien woman was arrested after she yelled at, got into a physical confrontation with and refused to leave the home of another person in town with whom she had previously been in a relationship, police said.

Darien police gave this further account of what happened, including accusations not proven in court:

The woman, still at the scene when police arrived shortly after 10:55 p.m. on Thursday, July 1, complained of an injury and was taken to a hospital for evaluation. Police applied for an arrest warrant, which was approved.

Police gave no indication that the other person was injured in the physical confrontation, nor did they describe the condition of the woman taken to the hospital.
