With warmer days upon us, the official countdown to summer has begun. At Fairfield University's Quick Center for the Arts, this means preparing to open the Missoula Children's Theatre Summer Camp and Summer Camp Intensives.

These day programs are an exciting way to delve into the lively world of the arts, exposing campers to a variety of creative art forms.

The arts and theatre offer kids a way to build friendships and share in a collective experience. Summer camps provide opportunities for collaboration, growth, confidence building, and some good solid fun.

Celebrating the 31st season of Missoula Children's Theatre Camps at Fairfield, we are thrilled to offer six unique sessions to choose from this summer. Open to students in Grades 1 to 12, Missoula campers will present a full-scale production with costumes, songs, and dance — after just one week of rehearsals!
