

Singer-Songwriter Sheri Miller Performs Tuesday in New Canaan

Author : David Gurliacci

Categories : Music

Tagged as : New Canaan Library Events 2018, Sheri Miller

Date : June 24, 2018

Singer-songwriter Sheri Miller performs her soulful, Beatles-inspired love songs, while accompanying herself on guitar and piano Tuesday night, June 26 at New Canaan Library.

Her "celebration of women's voices in music and songwriting" begins Tuesday, June 26 at 6:30 p.m. in the Adrian Lamb Room at the library. Please register online at the New Canaan Library website.

Named one of Music Connection's "Hot 100 Unsigned Artists," Sheri Miller writes and . In honor of women's voices in music, Sheri will also sing a wide range of popular, classic favorites, including songs by Patsy Cline, Judy Garland, and The Beatles, among others.

Sheri has released two records, "Mantra" and "Winning Hand," as well as her original song "I Could Love You Still," featuring Will Lee, Paul Shaffer, Steve Cropper and others.

In addition to writing and performing her own songs, Sheri has collaborated with many Grammy Award-winning songwriters, including J.D. Souther, and is currently recording a new EP/ record in LA, Nashville and NY to be released in 2018/ 2019.