Five vehicles in four spots on the western side of town were entered overnight from Saturday to Sunday, June 29 to 30, Darien police said.

Not one of them was locked, police said. They added that while each vehicle was rummaged through, nothing was known to have been taken from any of the vehicles on these streets:

—Hollow Tree Ridge Road — a 2012 Buick Enclave

—Hollow Tree Ridge Road — a 2014 Lexus RX

—Lighthouse Way — a 2018 Ford F-150 Pickup truck and a 2015 Jeep Grand Cherokee

Police did not release the exact addresses where the vehicles were parked.

Meanwhile, in New Canaan

New Canaan police say they received multiple reports on Sunday of unlocked cars being entered.

In one case, an unlocked 2013 Subaru with its keys inside was stolen from a Heritage Hill Road driveway, New Canaan Police Chief Leon Krolikowski said in a news release. That car later was recovered on Parish Lane, he said.

Small amounts of cash were also stolen from vehicles on upper Elm Street, Prospect Place, Oenoke Lane and Parish Road, the chief said.

“It is probable that these crimes are being committed by gang members,” Krolikowski said in the release. “Many towns in Fairfield County are experiencing similar crimes and some of these stolen vehicles have been used in robberies and drive-by shootings.”
