From October 2014 to June 2017, Vence-Small made 65 unauthorized electronic fund transfers, totaling $904,659.29, from the dealership's bank account to her personal American Express account.

She also issued and signed 28 checks drawn on the dealership's bank account, in the total amount of $207,777.78, to pay various third parties, including credit card companies, contractors who performed work at her residence, and a different dealership from which she purchased a car.

She also incurred on company accounts an additional $31,452.08 in unauthorized credit card charges and reimbursements.

The investigation revealed Vence-Small's personal expenses included first-class air travel and vacations to Australia, Hawaii, Mexico and Jamaica; payments to contractors to remodel and landscape her home, and the purchase of a $50,000 Ford Mustang.

Judge Meyer ordered Vence-Small to pay full restitution. She has made approximately $200,000 in restitution payments to date.
