Teams partaking in the scavenger hunt will compete to score the most points by answering town-based riddles and visiting participating merchants based on clues.

The Darien Dash takes place from 1 to 3 p.m., Saturday, March 14. It begins at the Town Hall gym and ends at The Depot Youth Center on Heights Road, where points will be tallied and prizes given to winners.

Participation in the event is open to all ages, but requires a vehicle and driver to travel about town, based on answers to riddles.

Participants will be limited to the first 25 vehicles to register. Team members may not exceed the number of seat belts in vehicles and signed waivers are required for all participants (parent/guardian must sign waiver for participants under the age of 18).

First, second and third place prizes will go to the teams with the most points. In the event of a tie, prizes will be given based on earliest arrival at The Depot.

The Darien Dash is one of many events hosted by the Darien Youth Commission, which develops enrichment programs and activities for youth. It is comprised of both adults and high school students.

“We are happy to host this event, which has received such a positive response, for the third year, and are thrilled to offer this exciting activity to families and the youth of the town,” said Darien Youth Director Alicia Sillars. “Since it is open to all ages, it’s a great way to include everyone in on the fun.” said Alicia Sillars.

Registration forms for the Darien Dash are available at darienct.gov/yc until March 12, or until the maximum number of 25 registrations are taken. Registration fee is $25 per vehicle. For more information, visit darienct.gov/yc or call 203-656-7388.
